The following letter to the managers from Judge Knapp is self-explanatory:
"Dear Sir: Many patrons of your theater are owners of motor cars, and make their visits to and from your playhouse in their cars. Many of these car-owner patrons of yours are members of the A. A. District of Columbia Club. It is by these latter that I have been importuned to suggest to you the advisability of supplying adequate protection for cars parked in the immediate vicinity of supplying adequate protection for cars parked in the immediate vicinity of supplying adequate protection for cars parked in the immediate vicinity of supplying adequate protection for cars parked in the immediate vicinity of your theater while their owners are patronizing your establishment.
